

COUNCIL ON
FOREIGN RELATIONS, INC.

NOVEMBER FIRST

1922

PURPOSE

THE Council on Foreign Relations aims to provide a continuous conference on the international aspects of America's political, economic and financial problems. Its membership, made up of men of many professions, is limited in number, as a large body would be unwieldy and freedom in discussion would be lost.

At the Council's round-table meetings and dinners foreign guests are entertained, and the attitude which the United States might properly assume toward the problems they raise is discussed. The Council is not a trade organization nor has it any connection with any political party. It simply is a group of men concerned in spreading a knowledge of international relations and, in particular, in developing a reasoned American foreign policy.

In addition to holding regular meetings, the Council on Foreign Relations publishes occasional bulletins and has recently founded a quarterly review, FOREIGN AFFAIRS, under the editorship of Dr. Archibald Cary Coolidge, of Harvard University. FOREIGN AFFAIRS, a non-partisan medium for the discussion of international problems, has been warmly welcomed both here and abroad. The Council feels that it is performing an important public service in making possible the publication of an authoritative review of this nature.

PURPOSE

THE Council on Foreign Relations provides a continuous conference on the international aspects of America's political, economic and financial problems. Its membership, made up of men of many professions, is limited in number in order that freedom in discussion may be maintained.

At the Council's round-table meetings and dinners distinguished American and foreign guests are entertained, and opportunity is afforded for discussion of the attitude which the United States might properly assume toward current international problems. The Council is not a trade organization nor has it any connection with any political party. It simply is a group of men, many of whom have had wide experience in international affairs, who wish by scientific and impartial study to aid in the development of a reasoned American foreign policy.

In addition to holding regular meetings, the Council on Foreign Relations publishes the quarterly review, FOREIGN AFFAIRS, under the editorship of Archibald Cary Coolidge, of Harvard University. FOREIGN AFFAIRS has established itself as the most authoritative American review dealing with international relations.

PURPOSE

THE Council on Foreign Relations provides a continuous conference on the international aspects of America's political, economic and financial problems. Its membership, made up of men of many professions, is limited in number in order that freedom in discussion may be maintained.

At the Council's round-table meetings and dinners distinguished American and foreign guests are entertained, and opportunity is afforded for discussion of the attitude which the United States might properly assume toward current international problems. The Council is not a trade organization nor has it any connection with any political party.

In addition to holding regular meetings, the Council on Foreign Relations publishes the quarterly review, FOREIGN AFFAIRS, under the editorship of Archibald Cary Coolidge, of Harvard University. FOREIGN AFFAIRS has established itself as the most authoritative American review dealing with international relations.

The Council has recently undertaken a program of research under the direction of Charles P. Howland. He and his collaborators are planning an annual survey of American foreign policy, as well as to continue the publication of the Council's series of individual volumes on special international questions.

BY-LAWS

I

The membership shall be divided into resident, non-resident, academic and honorary.

Resident members shall be limited to two hundred and fifty in number, who shall have their residences or places of business within fifty miles of City Hall, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

Non-resident members shall be limited to two hundred and fifty, who shall neither reside nor have places of business within the said specified distance from City Hall.

Academic members are those who, while members, are regular members of the faculty of any university or college, or accredited authors, writers and newspaper men.

The Board of Directors in its discretion may elect honorary members.

II

There shall be no entrance dues. Resident members shall pay $100 per annum, except that those thirty-five years of age and under shall pay $50 per annum; non-resident members shall pay $50 per annum; academic members shall pay $15 per annum, except that those who neither reside nor have places of business within fifty miles of New York shall pay $10 per annum. All dues shall be paid annually—or semi-annually in equal instalments at the option of the members—in advance. Default in the payment of any dues for a period of sixty days shall be equivalent to resignation.

III

There shall be a Board of eighteen Directors. The Board shall be divided into three classes of six Directors each, each class to serve for three-year terms, and to be elected annually by the Board of Directors at their first meeting in the autumn of each year.

The Officers of the corporation shall be a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, a Secretary and a Treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors.

IV

The President shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors, may call meetings of the same, and shall have general executive direction of the corporation.

LIST OF OFFICERS & MEMBERS

January First, 1933

PURPOSE

THE Council on Foreign Relations provides a continuous conference on the international aspects of America's political, economic, and financial problems. Its membership, limited in number, is made up of men of many professions.

The Council's round-table meetings and dinners for distinguished American and foreign guests afford an opportunity for discussion of the American attitude toward current international problems.

The Council is not a trade organization and has no connection with any political party.

The Council publishes the quarterly review, FOREIGN AFFAIRS, under the editorship of Hamilton Fish Armstrong. FOREIGN AFFAIRS has established itself as the most authoritative review dealing with international relations.

The Council also carries on a program of research. The research staff prepares an annual survey of the foreign relations of the United States under the editorship of Walter Lippmann, an annual political handbook of the world edited by Walter H. Mallory, and individual volumes on special international questions.

At a meeting of societies engaged in the scientific study of international relations, held in London in 1929, the Council was designated as the "national center" for such organizations in the United States.

The Council maintains its own quarters at 45 East 65th Street, New York, where all its activities are centered and where its reference library is housed.

The Board of Directors in its discretion may elect honorary members.

II

There shall be no entrance dues. Resident members shall pay $100 per annum, except that those members who are thirty-five years of age and under shall pay $50 per annum, and that those members who are regular members of the faculty of any university or college, or accredited writers or newspaper men shall pay $15 per annum; non-resident members shall pay $50 per annum, except that those members who are regular members of the faculty of any university or college, or accredited writers or newspaper men shall pay $10 per annum. All dues shall be paid annually—or semi-annually in equal instalments at the option of the members—in advance. Default in the payment of any dues for a period of sixty days shall be equivalent to resignation.

III

There shall be a Board of eighteen Directors. The Board shall be divided into three classes of six Directors each, each class to serve for three-year terms and until their successors are elected. At each annual meeting of the Council there shall be elected six Directors to replace the outgoing class. The Board shall have power to fill, for the unexpired term, any vacancy that may occur in its own body.

IV

The Annual General Meeting of the Council shall be held in New York City on the third Wednesday of September. At this meeting the Board of Directors shall present a report of the activities of the Council during the past year; candidates shall be elected to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors of the Council in accordance with regulations laid down by the Board; and such other business shall be considered as shall be brought forward by or with the sanction of the Board of Directors, and which shall have been stated in the notice convening the meeting.

A majority of the members of the Council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Members may be represented by proxy.

The Board may constitute such committees of the Council as may from time to time be required, including an Executive Committee, a Finance and Budget Committee, a Membership Committee, and a Research Committee.

The Finance and Budget Committee shall be composed of five members of the Board of Directors elected at the annual meeting of the Board. It shall have general supervision of the investment of the funds of the Council and of its financial affairs, and shall present the budget at the annual meeting of the Board. In connection with the preparation of the budget, it shall be the duty of this Committee to allocate charges to the various departments and activities of the Council.

The Membership Committee shall be composed of five members of the Board of Directors elected at the annual meeting of the Board. It shall report at each regular meeting of the Board on all nominations for membership. The Membership Committee shall also act as a nominating committee to present names for officers and committee members at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors.

The Research Committee shall be composed of five members of the Board of Directors elected at the annual meeting of the Board. The Committee shall have power to co-opt two additional members, who need not necessarily be members of the Board of Directors. All suggestions relating to matters of research shall be referred to it, and it shall be responsible for the initiation of research projects. The Research Committee shall submit a report of its activities in writing at the annual meeting of the Board.

The officers of the corporation shall be a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors, may call meetings of the same, and shall have general executive direction of the corporation.

The Vice-Presidents in order of seniority shall discharge the duties of the President in his absence, and shall perform such other duties as from time to time shall be assigned them by the Board of Directors.

The Treasurer shall have custody of the funds of the corporation.

The Secretary shall conduct the correspondence of the corporation, and shall keep its records.

Disbursements shall be made only upon checks or vouchers approved by the Treasurer and either the Executive Director or the Editor of FOREIGN AFFAIRS, or in the case of funds of FOREIGN AFFAIRS by the Treasurer and the Editor of FOREIGN AFFAIRS (or in the absence of the Editor, the Executive Director or the Acting Managing Editor). In the absence of the Treasurer the President (or in the absence of the President, the Vice-President) shall have authority to appoint one of the Directors as Acting Treasurer with authority to sign checks in all cases in which the Treasurer is so authorized.

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held after the annual meeting of the Council and not later than November 15th. A majority of the Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors.

PURPOSE

THE Council on Foreign Relations is a non-partisan and non-commercial organization studying the international aspects of America's political, economic, and financial problems. It is not a trade organization and has no connection with any political party. Its membership is composed of men of many professions, with a variety of interests and views.

The Council holds meetings and conferences. It also carries on a program of research and publication.

PURPOSE

THE Council on Foreign Relations is a non-partisan and non-commercial organization studying the international aspects of America's political, economic, and financial problems. It is not a trade organization and has no connection with any political party. Its membership is composed of men of many professions, with a variety of interests and views.

The Council holds meetings and conferences. It also carries on a program of research and publication.

The Council publishes the quarterly review, FOREIGN AFFAIRS, which has established itself as the most authoritative journal dealing with international relations.

The research staff of the Council prepares an annual survey of the foreign relations of the United States, an annual political handbook of the world, and individual volumes on special international questions.

The Council maintains a reference library in charge of a competent staff.

At a meeting of societies engaged in the scientific study of international relations held in London in 1929, the Council was designated as the "National Center" for the United States.

Non-resident members shall be limited to two hundred and fifty, who shall neither reside nor have places of business within the said specified distance from City Hall, and who shall be citizens of the U. S. A.

The Board of Directors in its discretion may elect honorary members.

II

There shall be no entrance dues. Resident members shall pay $100 per annum, except that those members who are thirty-five years of age and under shall pay $50 per annum, and that those members who are regular members of the faculty of any university or college, or accredited writers or newspaper men shall pay $15 per annum; non-resident members shall pay $50 per annum, except that those members who are regular members of the faculty of any university or college, or accredited writers or newspaper men shall pay $10 per annum. All dues shall be paid annually—or semi-annually in equal instalments at the option of the members—in advance. Default in the payment of any dues for a period of sixty days shall be equivalent to resignation.

III

There shall be a Board of eighteen Directors. The Board shall be divided into three classes of six Directors each, each class to serve for three-year terms and until their successors are elected. At each annual meeting of the Council there shall be elected six Directors to replace the outgoing class. The Board shall have power to fill, for the unexpired term, any vacancy that may occur in its own body. A Director absent from meetings of the Board for a period of two successive years shall be considered to have submitted his resignation from the Board.

IV

The Annual General Meeting of the Council shall be held in New York City on the third Wednesday of September. At this meeting the Board of Directors shall present a report of the activities of the Council during the past year; candidates shall be elected to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors of the Council in accordance with regulations laid down by the Board; and such other business shall be considered as shall be brought forward by or with the sanction of the Board of Directors, and which shall have been stated in the notice convening the meeting.

A majority of the members of the Council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Members may be represented by proxy.

V

The Board may constitute such committees of the Council as may from time to time be required, including an Executive Committee, a Finance and Budget Committee, a Membership Committee, and a Research Committee.

The Finance and Budget Committee shall be composed of five members of the Board of Directors elected at the annual meeting of the Board. It shall have general supervision of the investment of the funds of the Council and of its financial affairs, and shall present the budget at the annual meeting of the Board. In connection with the preparation of the budget, it shall be the duty of this Committee to allocate charges to the various departments and activities of the Council.

The Membership Committee shall be composed of five members of the Board of Directors elected at the annual meeting of the Board. It shall report at each regular meeting of the Board on all nominations for membership. The Membership Committee shall also act as a nominating committee to present names for officers and committee members at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors.

The Research Committee shall be composed of five members of the Board of Directors elected at the annual meeting of the Board. The Committee shall have power to co-opt two additional members, who need not necessarily be members of the Board of Directors. All suggestions relating to matters of research shall be referred to it, and it shall be responsible for the initiation of research projects. The Research Committee shall submit a report of its activities in writing at the annual meeting of the Board.

VI

The officers of the corporation shall be a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors, may call meetings of the same, and shall have general executive direction of the corporation.

The Vice-Presidents in order of seniority shall discharge the duties of the President in his absence, and shall perform such other duties as from time to time shall be assigned them by the Board of Directors.

The Treasurer shall have custody of the funds of the corporation.

The Secretary shall conduct the correspondence of the corporation, and shall keep its records.

VII

The Board shall annually appoint an Executive Director or Executive Directors. The Board shall fix the compensation and assign the duties of the Executive Director or Executive Directors.

VIII

The funds of the corporation and of FOREIGN AFFAIRS shall be deposited with trust companies or national banks in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, designated by the Board of Directors, or shall be invested by the Finance and Budget Committee. Disbursements shall be made only upon checks or vouchers approved by the Treasurer and either the Executive Director or the Editor of FOREIGN AFFAIRS, or in the case of funds of FOREIGN AFFAIRS by the Treasurer and the Editor of FOREIGN AFFAIRS (or in the absence of the Editor, the Executive Director or the Acting Managing Editor). In the absence of the Treasurer the President (or in the absence of the President, the Vice-President) shall have authority to appoint one of the Directors as Acting Treasurer with authority to sign checks in all cases in which the Treasurer is so authorized.

IX

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held after the annual meeting of the Council and not later than November 15th. Seven Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors.
